About Indira Gandhi

Bharat Ratna Smt Indira Gandhi is perhaps India's most charismatic Leader & Prime Minister.

Smt Indira Gandhi lead India's numerable achievements such as:

- Green Revolution to make India self-sufficient in food grains
- Liberation of Bangladesh from Pakistan
- Nationalisation of banks, gave access of banks for all
- Abolishing privy purses of princely states
- India's first Nuclear Test
- Space program, putting India in the world space map
- 20-point programme to fight against poverty
- India's First Environment Protection Act, to save Environment

Born on November 19, 1917 in an illustrious family, Smt Indira Gandhi was the daughter of Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru. Smt Indira Gandhi was actively involved in the freedom struggle. In her early childhood, she founded the Bal Charkha Sangh and in 1930, the 'Vanar Sena' of children to help the Indian National Congress during the Non-Cooperation Movement. She was imprisoned in September 1942 and worked in riot-affected areas of Delhi in 1947 under Mahatma Gandhiji's guidance.

Smt Indira Gandhi first appeared on the centre stage of Indian politics when she became the President, Indian National Congress in 1959. From 1964 to 1966 she was the Union Minister for Information and Broadcasting. She surprised a lot of her political opponents who thought she was politically inexperienced and went on to serve as Prime Minister for 11 long years. After a brief stint out of power, she came back with a thumping majority in 1980 and remained Prime Minister, till she was tragically assassinated.

She found recreation in whatever she did and equal relaxation in being close to nature, in different forms of art, in physical activities like hiking in the mountains, or even reading about an unfamiliar subject.

About Nanna Olage Indira

Incidents of crime against women have been on a rise in India for last few years. More and more women are joining the urban workforce and safety of women continues to be a critical area of concern, in spite of many laws laid down by the Government.

In key economic hubs like Delhi, Gurgaon, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Chennai and Pune, there has been a steady increase in the number of cases of harassment and molestation being reported.

However, the conviction rates are poor because of the poor judicial system, lack of awareness, faulty methods of collecting forensic evidence and limited use of modern technology.

Most cases of sexual harassment at home, work or public places are often not reported due to cultural inhibitions in many parts of the country; where the stigma is attached to the victim/survivor rather than the perpetrator of the crime, who often gets away.

At Kaagaz Foundation, we have been propagating the concepts of women's safety which increases awareness to deal any unsafe situations. It also teaches women how to protect themselves against a physical attack using commonsense and basic self-defence techniques.

Nanna Olage Indira (Indira in Me), a women safety handbook is step towards making the environment safe for women, to empower them so that they can continue to contribute towards India's progress.

On the birth centenary year of the 1st women Prime Minister of India Smt Indira Gandhi, who has been a role model for many generations of women Nanna Olage Indira aims to invoke the power of Smt Indira Gandhi in every woman to stand up for herself in the face of adversities.

Self Defence

Aim of self defence is to prevent harm to yourself, cause severe momentary pain to the attacker; and make a quick getaway to a safer location, without being pursued by the attacker.

Defend yourself, keep a balanced body posture so that the attacker cannot easily force you to the ground.

When in a situation of potential danger, keep your belongings close together and tucked under your arm. Keep your master hand free to defend yourself.

Remember to shout loudly. It attracts attention of others, scares the attacker and gives you confidence.

Aim for the vulnerable parts of the attacker's body, aim and strike! The strike should be with maximum force to inflict severe pain on the attacker, so that he's dissuaded from pursuing you further.

Remember – Hit hard!! He was trying to harm you, and do not stay back to beat the attacker to a pulp – escape to a safe place.

Hit Where it Hurts!

Base of your palm, target - nose, jaw, throat

Elbow strikes, target - face, jaw, solar plexus

Knee rise, target - groin

Leg kick & heel stamp, targets - knee, shin, toes

Common Questions about Pepper Spray

1. Is pepper spray legal in India? Can I get punished for using it?
 - A. Pepper spray is legal in India, provided you use it for self defence. However, you should also check if your company has a policy about it.
2. Is it dangerous? Will it kill or harm a person?
 - A. Pepper spray temporarily incapacitates, remember, the person you are using it against was trying to harm you!

3. Where can I buy it?
- A. You can buy it in medical stores or even order online. Some of the common brands are "Knock out" and "Cobra".
4. Can I carry it on flights with me?
- A. It is advisable to put it in your check in baggage; airports do not permit it in the hand baggage.
5. Is there anything else I need to know about pepper spray?
- A. Keep it away from children who may accidentally use it and if you have to use it, spray it away from you at arm's length.
